County keeps tight reins on 1983 spending

by MARTIN BIEFER
Echo Editor

The county's board of management -- led by Dysart reeve Murray Fearrey, suitably attired in new shoes -- brought in a "stand-pat" budget for 1983 that received no opposition from county councillors.

Costs, for the most part, have remained the same on budget items for 1983. If they have gone up, they have followed provincial restraint guidelines.

Of interest to many is the Chamber of Commerce portion of the budget. The Chamber will receive, in 1983, $60,000 for tourist and convention promotion of the county. Although that indicates a $10,000 increase over last year's Chamber grant, Fearrey pointed out the county's Economic Development Commission will receive no budget this year.

"The $60,000 is really quite similar to last year's funding program," said the Dysart reeve, since the EDC will now be totally under the jurisdiction of the Chamber. Last year $7,651 of a budgeted $11,000 was spent on the EDC.

General government

The general government portion of the budget will rise to $118,245 from $106,700 in 1982. The increase is largely due to the establishment of a $15,000 "sick leave provision and working fund." Fearrey said the management committee's intent was that the fund be added to each year.

The portion of the budget for county councillors -- their session fees and mileage -- has risen from $13,000 to $15,000 this year. Committee meeting mileage and committee meeting fees compose $16,000 of the general government, compared to $15,000 last year.

Fearrey said councillor's fees have been held to the same basic level since 1974, adding that the only real increase has been in mileage -- an increase of two cents per kilometer.

The bulk of the budget categories -- mileage for administrative staff, postage, stationary, advertising, and telephone -- have been held to the same level as 1982. Heat has gone up slightly, but Fearrey noted fluctuations in the price of oil might vary the $400 increase budgeted for.

Building and equipment maintenance, insurance, water, sewers, legal and audit expenses, professional fees, subscriptions and memberships, general expenses, cost redemption debentures, remain virtually identical.

There will be a $2,800 increase (to $12,820) for building maintenance, because of needed repairs for the county office roof.

Persons and Property

Haliburton County's Mutual Fire Aid system will receive an increased grant this year -- $1,500, compared to $500 last year, because of increased programs. There's no change in the $800 budgeted for wolf bounty payments.

Roads budget

The county's road budget will increase dramatically, from $480,000 last year to $555,000 in 1983. The reason for the increase is the fact that the county must spend $50,000 on county road one in order to receive a $250,000 provincial grant. Other than that, noted Fearrey, the increase in roads spending has been kept to five per cent. More subsidization could have been gained with a larger county expenditure -- but the budget committee followed guide lines strictly.

Health services

The Haliburton, Kawartha and Pine Ridge District Health unit will receive $49,000 this year in grants, compared to $45,000 in 1982. This again falls in line with the five per cent guidelines set by the provincial government.

Last year $7,500 was budgeted for the waste management study. The study ran over budget by $1,229 -- and the county still owes an additional $500 to the consultants, Greer Galloway and Associates of Peterborough.

Commerce

Social and Family Services

The Haliburton County Home Support Service has worked hard for seniors in the past years -- and the county has given them a $500 grant for 1983. It's the first time the HCHSS has received a county grant.

Hyland Crest, as it did last year, will receive $140,000 for its operations. Fearrey lauded the work of the home's administrators who are attempting to work within the same budget they received last year. In 1982, the home went $14,028 over budget, because of unforeseen legal expenses.

The Hyland Crest debenture is virtually unchanged -- $31,335 -- and Fearrey noted that the home will be "all paid off" in 1984.

The Children's Aid Society received a $3,000 increase in funding, pushing them to $27,000.

Recreation and Cultural Services

The Haliburton County Library has agreed to take a budget cut this year -- from $53,000 last year to $50,000 in 1983. Fearrey pointed out that the library has operated $6,000 under budget in 1982. The Haliburton Guild of Fine Arts will receive $1,000, while parks and recreation grants will remain constant at $2,500.

Planning and development

Planning and development costs have been cut in the 1983 budget, mainly due to the shuffling off of the EDC to the Chamber of Commerce and the elimination of a $2,500 category called "county planning." The Land Division Committee received the same this year as last year -- $24,000. As mentioned, the Chamber of Commerce got $60,000, compared to the $50,000 plus $7,651 (for the EDC) it received last year. The Cardiff Information booth will receive $500 once again.

The bottom line

The budget target for 1983 is $1,061,880. Last year county expenditures overran budgeted costs -- $983,429 was spent, compared to $981,697 budgeted.

Fearrey expected questions, but got virtually none.

Extensive damage

A Haliburton village home was severely damaged by fire and smoke after a Sunday night blaze.

Eric Bridgeman's home on Bayshore Acres Drive in Haliburton was "damaged quite extensively," according to Dysart fire chief Howard Roberts.

The fire alarm was called in at 7:00 pm and firefighters were on the scene within minutes. According to Roberts, the fire began in a downstairs crawlspace, and burned for a while before people upstairs noticed smoke coming through the heat registers and notified the fire department.

"We're not quite sure what started it as yet," reported the chief. The downstairs area sustained fire damage, while the upstairs sustained smoke damage. Fortunately no one was hurt in the fire.

Dysart firefighters were also called to a chimney fire and a car fire last week, reported the chief.

Grass fire in Lutterworth

The Anson, Hindon and Minden fire department were on the scene for nearly three hours to extinguish a Thursday afternoon grass fire in Lutterworth township.

Chief Deke Jackson reported that the alarm was turned on at 1:10 pm Thursday to a large shed on lot 29 and 30, concession A in Lutterworth.

The shed was destroyed by flames, and 50 acres of land scorched by flames, he reported.

Throughout the three-hour blaze AHM firefighters were assisted by Ministry of Natural Resources personnel, said the chief. The dry and windy conditions of last week caused the blaze, and Chief Jackson estimates the total damage at $5,000. No one was hurt, he added.

"We handled it OK," he said, noting that the firefighters were back at the station by about 4:30 pm.

Rain on the weekend and Monday snows have snuffed out a potential for fire that had both chiefs worried.

The precipitation "will really help," said Dysart chief Roberts. "We had been very worried about a grass fire, because of the dry conditions."

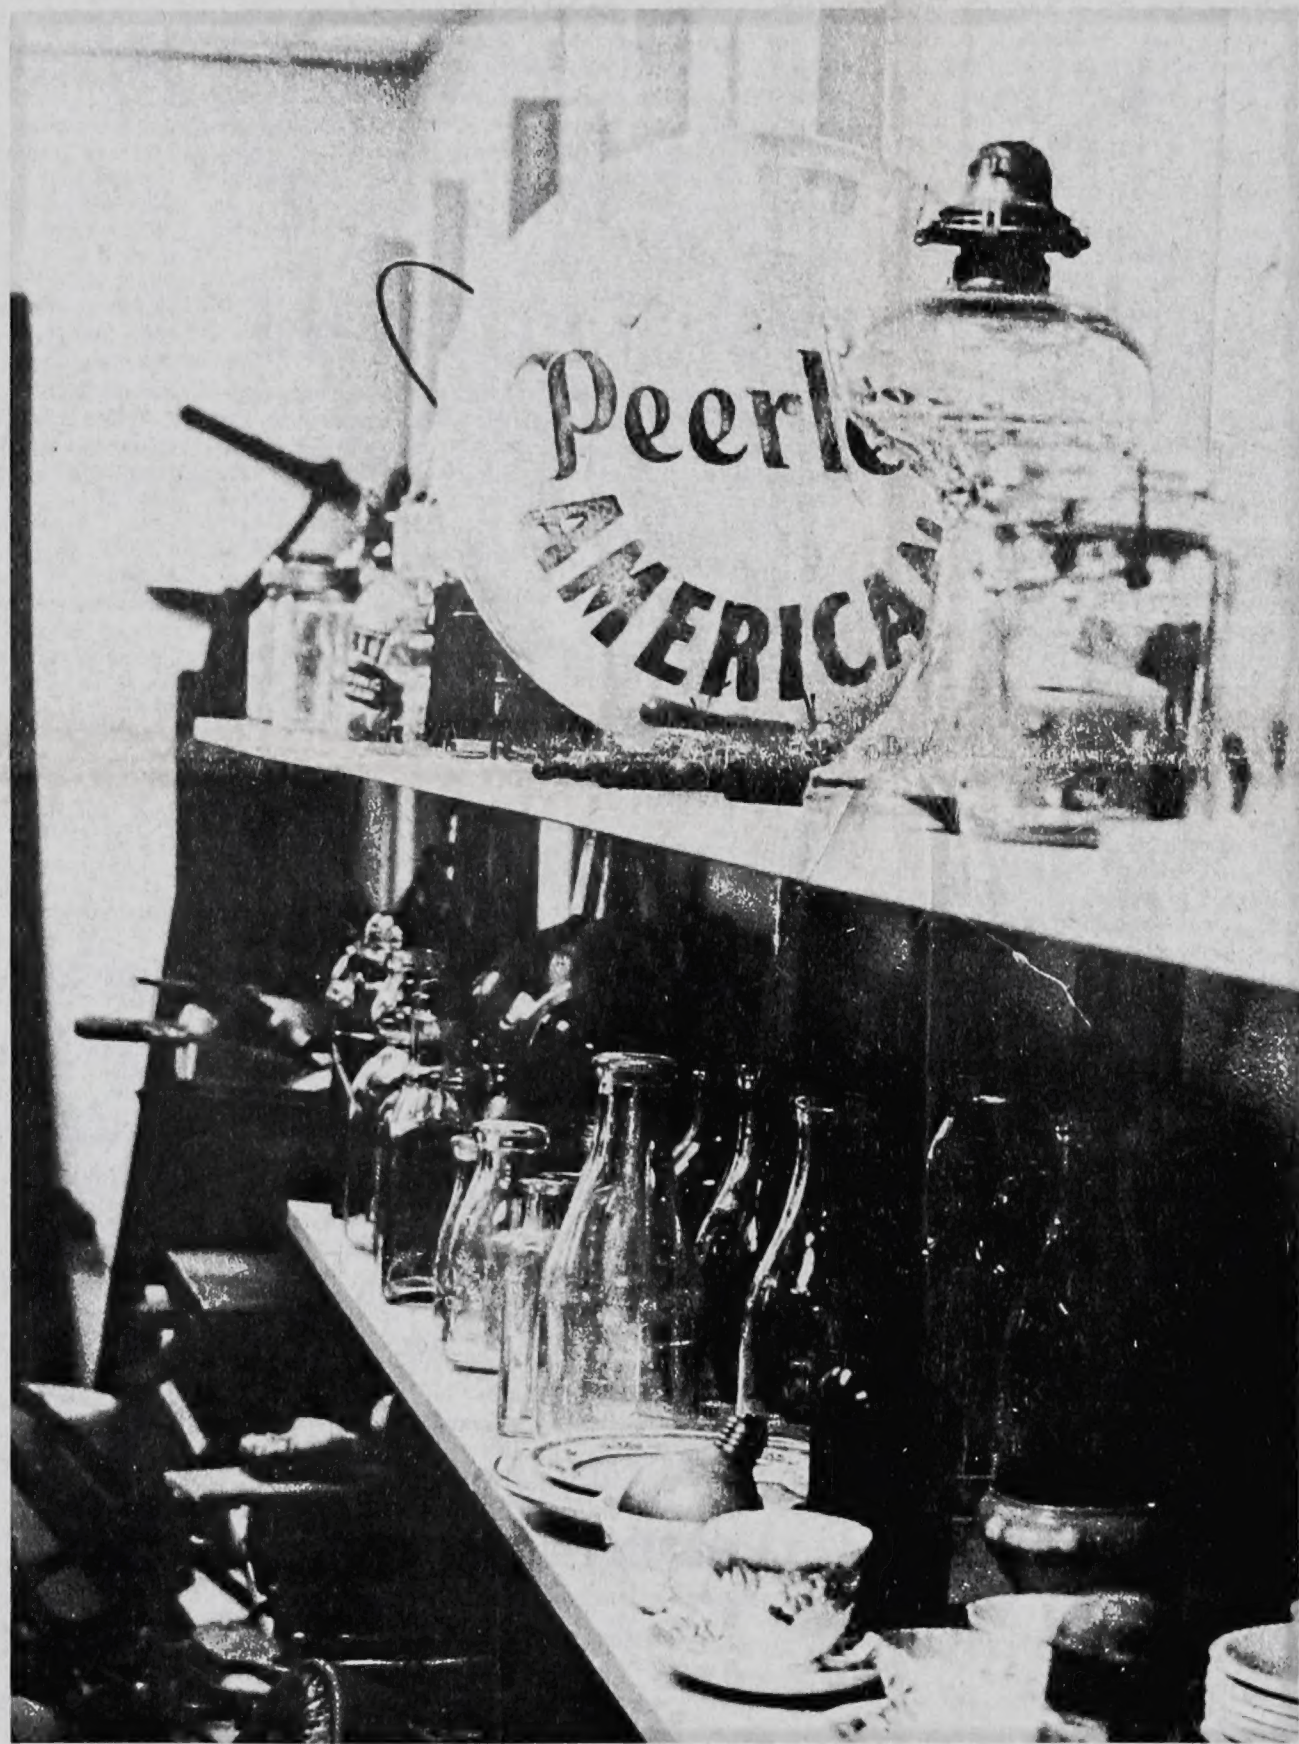

Chief Jackson agreed, and remarked in jest Monday that "there won't be any grass fires today."

Bowling grant

The Minden Lawn Bowling Club will receive an $11,650 grant to renovate its quarters and expand its activities. The announcement was made recently by Bill Scott, MP for Victoria-Haliburton.

The money is being made available through the New Horizons program of Health and Welfare Canada, he said.

Other projects announced for the riding include $3,148 for the senior residents of Frost Manor in Lindsay (the money is to be used to provide social and recreational programs) and $850 for the Senior Citizens' Complex Association in Apsley, to purchase a piano.

The Haliburton Highlands Pioneer Museum offers local residents and tourists a chance to see first hand some of the history of the area. This week the Museum is attempting to catalogue items in its vast archives -- such as these artifacts. If you have given something to the museum, why not drop by and help identify it?

Consultants suggest alternatives for county's waste management

by MARTIN BIEFER
Echo Editor

A consultant's study on waste management, delivered to Haliburton county council last Thursday, has suggested several new ways for municipalities to trim the costs and other problems of waste disposal.

All the suggestions combined in the study are to be reviewed by county councillors, and discussed at next month's meeting.

The study, prepared by Greer Galloway and Associates of Peterborough, has called for the upgrading of existing sites, the phasing out of sites that can't be upgraded, consideration of the use of transfer stations (large metal receptacles that could be trucked to remote, larger dumpsites), the establishment of new sites, monitoring of waste handling and disposal, and the encouragement of ment options (such as bundling or compacting waste).

The exhaustive study looked at 32 dumpsites in the county -- 24 public sites and eight private ones.

Bob Clark of Greer Galloway provided county councillors with an overview of the study.

Municipalities will make comments

At the heart of waste management in Haliburton county, he pointed out, is a need for more cost efficiency. While it costs about $20 per ton to manage garbage in a small dumpsite, it might cost between $6 and $8 per ton to manage garbage in a larger site.

The county should move towards a waste management system that would cost "between $12 and $14 per ton" to handle, he noted.

Of the 32 sites looked at, "most are small, most are dumps, and most cater to local areas...it's going to be difficult to design a new system with accessibility," said Clark.

One good alternative, he said, would be the establishment of "transfer stations" at key points in the county.

Rather than closing down smaller sites (which serve local areas) Clark envisaged closing some, expanding others, and introducing a system of "transfer stations." Residents could toss their garbage in a large metal bin near home, and that bin would be trucked to a larger site.

The result would be a cheaper cost of operations -- without less-

OPP report

Personnel at Minden detachment of the OPP investigated the following occurrences during the period between March 14 and 20, 1983. There were five motor vehicle accidents (two persons injured), and 31 general occurrences.

Hitch-hiker

On Sunday afternoon, March 20, Anthony LaBerge, 34, of Minden township picked up a hitch-hiker on highway 121 south of Kimmount. Near Minden, LaBerge noticed what appeared to be the butt of a gun protruding from the hitch-hiker's belt.

When he pulled the car over to the side of the road on the pretence of talking to a friend, the hitch-hiker pointed a starter's pistol at him and demanded to be driven further north. LaBerge fled from the vehicle and the man slid behind the steering wheel and drove away. A few miles north the car was stopped by Constables Christopher Jim Solway and Glenn Irving without further incident. Christopher Keith Lindsay, 19, of Toronto, has been charged with theft of a vehicle, possession of an offensive weapon, and forcible confinement. He is currently in Lindsay jail awaiting a bail hearing. PC Dennis Potter is the investigating officer.

Rollover

At 6:20 am Saturday, March 19 a single car accident occurred on highway 121, 1 1/2 km south of highway 35 in Lutterworth township. Robert Hall, 24, of Dysart township, was northbound when his 1978 mid-size car drove off the opposite side of the road. The vehicle flipped down an embankment rolling over several times and received $4,000 damage. Hall and passenger Shaun Chapman, 20, of RR 2 Minden received minor injuries. The other passenger, Michael Hughes, 19, of RR 1 Minden was uninjured. Hall was charged with careless driving. Investigated by PC Wim Magee.

Deer killed

Two separate accidents involving collisions with deer have occurred on roads in Haliburton county this past week. Murray Simmons of Irondale damaged his 1969 Ford to the tune of $300 when he struck a deer near his home, and Ronald Babcock of Willowdale sustained $350 damage to his 1981 Buick when it struck a deer on highway 35, north of Miners Bay. In the past month, five deer have been killed by vehicles in Haliburton county.

Griffin and road superintendent Delbert Page, as well as by-law enforcement officer / chief building official Arthur Haynes. Guests and ratepayers in attendance included Hans Weidner, Victor Farnandez, Leo Fortney, Frank Cowan of Cowan Insurance and Pat McLroy.

Teen volunteers to help hospital

by GLENNA BECKHAM

A teenage volunteer program, formerly called Candy Strippers, has been initiated at the Haliburton Hospital. The program is being convened by Elaine Jackson under the sponsorship of the Haliburton Hospital Auxiliary. Ellenor Bagg, Connie Wood, and Eileen Morrison have assisted in the initiation of the program.

On November 28, 1982 Elaine Jackson, Ellenor Bagg and Chantal LaRue attended the Ontario Hospital Auxiliary Association annual convention in Toronto which pertained directly to the teenage volunteer program.

After attending the conference and studying information obtained from many hospitals in the area that have volunteer programs, a program was established with the particular needs of our hospital in mind.

A presentation of the program was made at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School to the students who were interested in becoming volunteers.

Application forms were made available and interviews were held following the presentation.

A full day of orientation was held at the hospital on March 5, 1983 for seven young ladies. The orientation consisted of: study of the manual for volunteers, films pertaining to volunteer work, demonstrations by the physiotherapist, Mrs Sue Ripley, tour of the hospital, and a scavenger hunt. The orientation was followed by refreshments served by members of the auxiliary.

The volunteers received their pink and white striped pinafores and were ready to start their program on March 9, 1983. The teenage volunteers are: Maureen Billings, Renee Curry, Melanie Dewey, Chantal LaRue, Carol Lewis, Diane Madill, and Dawn Wright. Their services have been warmly welcomed by the hospital staff.

Legion zone F4 convention is held

The spring convention of zone F4 was held at Branch 129 Haliburton on Sunday, March 20, 1983. All branches were represented except one.

The meeting was called to order by zone commander Doug Worrall. After the opening ceremonies were observed the minutes of the last zone convention and zone council meeting were read by secretary-treasurer J. Mathieson and approved by the body.

All zone officers were in attendance and a number of district officers. Acting district commander Paul Hycha and the following members of his executive attended: R. Brown, C. Livingstone, G. J. Sampson, K. Jeffries, V. Kelcey, J. Prine and zone F5 commander Una Golding. Zone commander F4 LA Gwen Cox was in attendance. President Sylvia Sisson welcomed the delegates to Branch 129 and wished them well in their deliberations.

The meeting was then turned over to the zone chairman, William Cooper.

The District Literary Awards were presented to students from Zone F4, the

Those elected were zone commander, Mel Robertson, Branch 129 Haliburton, Ted Jones, deputy zone commander, Branch 238 Fenelon Falls. These officers will be installed at the district convention at Port Hope in April.

During the election ceremonies the acting district commander gave a very enlightening talk on several

The reports of the branches were presented at this time and all branches are well and active with a large array of projects on the go. A number of the branches have already advised their municipalities that the Legion Hall is available for any disasters that may occur in their area and branches who have not yet made this offer should do so soon.

Children's Act requires input

The Children's Act, a proposed provincial act designed to safeguard children's rights, will be the subject of discussion at a series of "focus groups" to be held from March 24 to April 21.

The Ministry of Community and Social Services will be holding the focus groups in order to obtain "community input... vital to the development of the bill, which will have a long range impact on the future direction of Children's Services."

The focus groups will deal with early childhood education, justice, mental health, child welfare, youth, and foster care/adoption. They are being sponsored by The Children's Services Advisory Group, representing the city of Peterborough and Victoria, Haliburton, and Peterborough counties. According to Deb McKittrick of Children's Services, it is "important that everyone concerned with the future development of children's services have the opportunity for input."

"The input of those concerned with improving the quality of services to children is critical to the effectiveness of the consultation process and the development of a Children's Act in Ontario," added McKittrick.

In Peterborough focus group discussion will be held March 31 (on mental health), April 7 (on child welfare), and April 14 (on justice and on youth).

All seminars will be held in the ministry's offices in Peterborough on 60 Hunter Street East.

For more details, call Deb McKittrick at 748-2081.

New ideas for waste management

sening the accessibility the present system enjoys, said Clark.

The transfer station idea has worked well in the township of Georgian Bay, added Clark.

Another benefit of transfer stations is that they can be easily monitored -- and located in the best possible locations on the basis of that monitoring.

Another good idea, said Clark, is that of more resources recovery -- encouraging the separation of recyclable waste from other garbage. Clark stressed that much foresight is needed in planning for this type of program. Some municipalities found the cost of trying to recycle resources such as paper -- couldn't be justified.

Long-term plan

The study was designed "to provide an evaluation of the existing waste management system, and to prepare a waste management plan for the next 20 years," states the report.

"The county is estimated to have produced some 15,000 tons of waste in 1981. From 1983 to 2002 the county is projected to produce some 370,400 tons."

Currently all the county's municipalities, except for the township of Bicroft, "require individual property owners to be responsible for the transportation of their garbage and refuse to a certified disposal site. None of the municipalities operate a comprehensive garbage collection system paid for by municipal taxes."

There are four sites in AHM (one is private), one in Bicroft, two in Cardiff, six in Dysart (four are private), one in Glamorgan, four in Lutterworth (three are private), one in Monmouth and two each in Sherborne et al, Snowdon, and Stanhope.

The costs of getting rid of garbage are not minimal. In 1981 a total of $159,556 was spent to handle some 13,306 tons of waste. Costs ranged from $52,405 in Dysart to $1,475 in Bicroft.

The consultants recommended the eventual phasing out of the Edgewater Dump, the South Bay dump, the McClintock dump, and the Monmouth dump, and the Hawk Lake dump.

They also identified possible new sites in all townships.

Warden Bill Howe thanked Clark for his report. Copies of it were distributed to each municipality. They will review all the study's suggestions and make their comments at the next meeting of county council.

Municipal share rises in budget

The county's ten municipalities will be asked to raise a total of $863,081 for this year's levy... an increase of nearly 100,000 from 1982. The levy is the portion of the county budget paid by member municipalities, according to equalized assessment.

Anson, Hindon and Minden ratepayers, who last year were responsible for 17.08 per cent of the levy ($131,223.93) will this year pay 16.986 per cent ($146,602.94).

Bicroft's share of the levy was 1.2 per cent last year ($9,219.48) and will be 1.180 per cent ($10,184.36) this year. Cardiff's 5.21 per cent share amounted to $40,027.91 last year, and their 5.166 share will result in payments of $44,586.76 this year.

The largest contributor to the county coffers this year is the municipality of Dysart et al. Last year Dysart's share was 38.33 per cent, for $294,485.56. This year, Dysart will pay 38.126 of the total, resulting in $329,058.26.

Glamorgan's contribution this year will be $49,325.08, (5.715 per cent) compared to 5.59 per cent ($42,947.41) last year. Lutterworth's 7.0 per cent contribution resulted in a $53,780.30 share of the total last year. This year, Lutterworth's share has risen to 7.293 per cent ($62,944.50).

Monmouth's 3.55 per cent contribution last year translated into $27,274.29. This year the township will contribute 3.693 per cent of the total, for $31,873.58.

Sherborne et al contributed 8.27 per cent of the total ($63,537.58) last year, and this year will provide 8.184 per cent ($70,634.55). Snowdon's share was 3.82 per cent last year ($29,348.68) and is 3.734 per cent ($32,227.44) this year.

Reeve Murray Fearrey of Dysart, chairman of the management committee, released the figures with the budget papers at last Thursday's meeting of county council in Minden.

Extendicare seeks grant for woodworking shed -- would benefit entire community

Haliburton's Extendicare nursing home has come up with an interesting plan for carpenters in the village.

The home plans to winterize a 16-foot by 20-foot shed located near the parking lot at Extendicare. Heat and hydro still be provided, and then a second 16-foot by 20-foot shed will be added on. It's all intended to be used for woodworking -- by senior citizens of Extendicare and by interested members of the community.

Ivy Shaw of Extendicare said the home already has many of its own tools, and that those could be made available to seniors. The addition and repair work would be financed under a New Horizons grant, she added.

Any contractor wishing to make a bid on the job should contact Extendicare by March 29. A meeting will take place at that time to discuss the logistics of the project, said Shaw.

"If anyone would like to sit in (on the meeting) they can contact me," she said. The committee running the venture will be composed of residents from Haliburton and members of "The Happy Gang," she added.

Allin Cooper is recovering from injuries sustained in an ultralight aircraft crash last Monday.

According to son John Cooper, the Ingoldsby man's injuries were not as serious as first reports indicated. He has not suffered any back injury or skull injury, reported John Cooper.

"He's going to pull through... he's not finished yet," said John. Since last Monday, Allin Cooper "has been in and out of the operating room for about a week," said his son. He was expected to undergo an operation

Tuesday, and has had several since his fall to the surface of Lake Kashagawigamog.

Both his arms and both his legs are broken, said John Cooper, adding that his father will remain hospitalized "for at least two months."

Cooper said his father is on oxygen, but has been able to talk to visitors. Because of the oxygen system, he's limited "to yes and no answers," said Cooper.

He said he would visit his father Tuesday.

The Echo wishes Allin Cooper all the best for a speedy recovery.

The year 1982 was, in the words of Ken Morley, "a successful year for the world's largest charitable organization."

Morley, the president of the Haliburton branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society, made his remarks at the organization's annual meeting, held last Tuesday night at the Haliburton Red Cross Hospital.

"1983 will be a difficult year for the (national) Red Cross," he told the several dozen members in attendance. The difficulties arise "from a shortfall of funds, both in the Red Cross campaign and the United Way."

The shortfalls are attributed to a flagging economy, said Morley, and the Red Cross stands to lose "as much as $500,000 in Ontario alone."

Nevertheless, he said, the local branch "had a successful year, financially as well as in programs." New programs, including emergency and youth categories, are planned.

The emergency program "is a mandatory program for all branches," explained the president. "Ours will go into the Dysart municipal program, in the field of social services." Morley expressed his thanks to Wayne Wood, who will chair the committee. Wood will be taking an instructors program in April. Dealing with disaster is the focal point of the program.

The youth program "is still in the early stages of its development," said Morley.

There are now a total of 12 homemakers serving Minden, Wilberforce, and Haliburton. "In 1983," said Morley, "we hope to have a supervisor in the areas to help with the administrator of the program."

The executive of the Haliburton Branch included president Morley, treasurer Roger Dart (CA), secretary Barbara Dawson and vice-president Charles Tyler.

Looking back at 1982's swimming programs, the meeting learned that 48 of the 65 children who entered Red Cross Swimming programs at West Guilford had passed, while 58 of 106 in Haliburton had passed.

In total, 106 of 171 who entered earned their "stripes," a credit to swimming chairman Vicky Ross and the instructors.

The loan cupboard, another vitally important Red Cross service, also reported a good year. A total of 249 items were loaned out -- 190 crutches, 13 wheelchairs, 13 commodes, ten canes, four beds and two bed pans. Chairman of that program is Eileen Morrison.

This year's Red Cross campaign netted $4,821, well over the target of $4,600.

Red Cross efforts helped two homeless people this year. They were assisted with bedding, clothes, and shelter after their home was severely damaged by fire.

It's Red Cross month -- and their flag is flapping above the Cenotaph in Haliburton.

1983's budget curtails excess spending

When he got to the Chamber of Commerce section of the budget, he stated that "regardless of what anyone says, (Chamber expenditures) are monitored closely... through an audited statement and monthly reports. We know exactly where the funds are going."

"As far as the management committee is concerned, tourism is number one," said the Dysart reeve. He said the $60,000 allocation to the Chamber "works out to $1 per household."

The Chamber, added Fearrey,

"is the only organization promoting the county -- and even those who have an insatiable thirst to be anti-Chamber" would have to agree.

The budget document received unanimous consent from the county councillors.

Eakins optimistic about new task force

The Liberal party's Rural Task Force appears to be well underway -- and chairman John Eakins, MPP for Victoria/Haliburton, is anticipating a busy schedule ahead.

"Meetings are underway with members of the Rural Task Force in planning schedules and agendas for our upcoming meetings," he said in a recent press release. "The number of meetings have not yet been determined, but we will travel to all corners of the province to listen to the views of our rural people."

Eakins told the Echo Friday that he is "very excited about the Task Force" and has a feeling of optimism about the results.

"We are getting a number of inquiries from a number of areas from people who want to participate," added the MPP.

The task force's aim is to identify the concerns of rural Ontario's municipal officials and community groups.

John Eakins

What's needed, the Liberals say, is a more serious effort to sustain the economies of towns and townships, by "shoring up their revenue base, and maintaining work force."

Other questions the task force will deal with include finding an answer as to how skilled labor can be kept in small towns, improving transportation, industrial development, and "strengthening the clout" at Queen's Park of municipalities, states a Liberal press release.

Eakins, a former mayor of Lindsay, was picked to head the committee by Liberal leader David Peterson.

"To my knowledge, this is the first time that any political party has formed a task force to examine the needs and opportunities of rural Ontario. I view this appointment with a great sense of challenge and responsibility, and it is my hope that when our task force reports its findings, we will be able to offer some concrete proposals on behalf of those who live outside of our large urban areas."

A visit to Haliburton county will be part of the task force agenda, he noted.

Expropriation set for Ingoldsby bridge project

The "hearing of necessity" involving the proposed $300,000 Ingoldsby bridge has been resolved -- and the county will expropriate a small parcel of land from nearby resident Joe Curtin.

The judgement from hearing officer James Webster of Fenelon Falls was announced at last Thursday's meeting of county council. The hearing had been held last month. Curtin alleged that the bridge was unnecessary, because of traffic counts in the area, and felt boats would be unable to pass underneath the structure.

The bridge is planned to go ahead this year, but a cut to the county's road budget was announced last Thursday. Dysart reeve Murray Fearrey said the bridge timeline will be discussed by the roads committee.

Cutting costs

The county of Haliburton appears to be doing its best to keep spending down in 1983.

The new county budget, released last week at county council, shows a projected total expenditure of $1,061,880. Last year, the county spent $983,429 -- so the spending increase has been kept to less than eight per cent.

The stand-pat effort requires a lot of assistance from those involved in the county administration. For example, did you know county councillors' fees have remained the same since 1984 -- and that their only increases over the year have been for gas mileage?

It's also interesting to note that, in the spirit of restraint, the county library has taken a voluntary budget cut, and Hyland Crest will work with the same budget as they did last year.

The Chamber of Commerce received an increase of $10,000 -- but when one considers that they were charged with the administration of the county's EDC budget last year, their increase works out to less than $3,000.

Similarly, the county roads budget was trimmed down -- and there may have to be some re-thinking done about the roads projects for 1983. One of these is the Ingoldsby bridge. Remember as well that the $550,000 spent by the county for roads can and does lead to large provincial subsidies.

The only real jump in this budget was in the area of "sick leave provision." County council wants to set aside about $15,000 a year in trust for sick leave benefits. That item, which did not exist last year, made the "general government" budget increase by more than five per cent.

The budget was delivered in a very straightforward, easy-to-understand fashion, and as a result, there were few questions asked. It was passed unanimously. It's good to see the county is unified on the issue of restraint.

Waste no time

The long-awaited waste-management study is finally in the hands of county municipalities -- after it ran over budget and was several months late.

It seems, however, to offer some interesting views on a somewhat dull topic -- managing county dumps and landfill sites. The cost figures produced by the consultants show that a lot of money is spent on waste disposal -- and the point of their suggestions is that spending be trimmed by new methods.

There's the idea of "transfer stations," huge metal bins that could be strategically located throughout the county, and transported to central dump sites. There's talk of more resource recovery, of bundling or compacting garbage, and of closing smaller, less cost efficient dumps.

All-in-all it's a very thorough look at a subject many don't take too seriously. Now that the report has been dumped into the hands of county councillors, let's hope they don't waste the opportunity to challenge the findings.

More PC candidates

The battle for federal Progressive Conservative leader has really begun to shape up. Brian Mulroney, the high-profile bilingual financier and former finance minister John Crosbie have entered the fray.

Along with David Crombie and Joe Clark, these two men would appear to be definitely among the front runners so far. The big question is, of course, whether or not Bill Davis will run.

If Davis runs, it's said Loughheed of Alberta will soon follow.

Of all the Tories in Canada it would seem Davis and Loughheed have the most respect -- not only from the people they represent, but from political opponents. While Davis would have tremendous support here, he might not fare well out west. The converse is true for Loughheed.

We certainly hope that we don't see a repeat of the 1976 Tory convention; where political infighting caused the third man to come in first.

Davis or Loughheed would probably be the leader the PC's need to drive the Liberals out of office.

Red Cross working

The Haliburton Red Cross Society held their annual meeting here last week, and honored four of their members for their dedicated years of service to the community.

It's Red Cross Month now -- so why not take the time to make a donation? The world's best-known charitable organization faces tough economic times ahead, but they must keep up the high level of service they have already established.

There are many who depend on the Red Cross. Why not give them a hand?

Reader wants new approach to foreign aid

To the Editor:

Mr David Fraser, in your issue of March 16, is so correct. We need to look after our resources and let third world countries work out their own economics.

One thing we could do is bring a few of their students here and complete special or university courses, gratis, then return them to their native land to lead their own people to better living.

Travelling down to the scenic eastern townships

I had the opportunity to do a little travelling this weekend, as I continue to get used to living in the county.

I took the scenic route to Bancroft from Haliburton, swinging down the Essonville Line to Wilberforce and bumping my way along highway 648 to Highland Grove. It's quite a drive, as the hills become more pronounced and rocky.

From Highland Grove I took county road 5 to Baptiste, and once in Hastings County, took a township road to Birds Creek on highway 62.

Coming home, I paused in Bicroft -- a community that seems to be a runaway city subdivision, with its meandering street plan and houses on small lots. I was impressed by the size of the township -- and the facilities available to residents.

The "eastern townships" as they are called, have a lot to offer tourists -- particularly cottagers. Every lake I passed seemed well-equipped with cottages.

This area often feels neglected by the rest of the county. After all, the closest major centre is Bancroft, and the highway 35 corridor is less important than nearby highway 62 as a major road.

But all this may change in the next few years. I'm told that once highway 507 links Gooderham to Peterborough in a smoother fashion, more vehicles will have easy access to the east.

The townships have also banded together to promote themselves, and have produced a promotional brochure to be displayed at the Sportsman's Show in Toronto.

It's a beautiful part of the county, and I wish them well.

Why bite nails - write a letter instead

We're still not being inundated with the deluge of letters we had hoped for.

Once again, we at the Echo must drag out the soapbox and the megaphone and make a pitch for more opinion.

Just think -- you'll be able to poke holes in the editor's opinions. You can issue with the views expressed in news stories of local politicians and decision makers.

You can be as mean and nasty as you want (within legal guidelines) and get away with it! And what's more, you can cut out your letter -- and send it to granny!

Seriously, we welcome all signed letters to the editor. This is your newspaper, and we want to hear what you think.

Feir Play

There is something about this particular week that makes it stand out from all the rest. Yes, you can even notice the difference here in Haliburton county this week as we are now in the midst of the annual March break. It would appear that there are so many people away at this time of year that some of the communities in our area seem to be half deserted.

This is the week that makes it very difficult to do business with so many away and if you try to hold a meeting you find that only a handful of people are left to turn out for the occasion. This is also the time of the year that a great many parents and their children take advantage of this break in the action to go away on a week's vacation. Many have gone to Florida, others to large centres like Toronto and Montreal while others are visiting with friends and relatives in various parts of Ontario.

On the other hand its very encouraging to see so many visitors back for a holiday in the Highlands. Unfortunately there will be very little snow for snowmobiling or cross-country skiing here this March break. Some of the local boys have told me that they will go fishing instead.

The annual Easter Seal Campaign is at present underway here in Haliburton county. Throughout Ontario 237 service clubs affiliated with the Easter Seal Society will be aiming at a provincial objective of well over $3,000,000 needed to maintain essential rehabilitation of services for thousands of Ontario's physically handicapped children.

The Rotary Clubs of Haliburton and Minden are in charge of the campaign locally and they are looking forward to receiving your donation. In over 23 offices across Ontario, there are 37 public health nurses specializing in pediatric rehabilitation, who offer consultative services in the care and management of physically handicapped children in home and community.

Through Easter Seal funds, parents are assisted in meeting the costs of artificial limbs, braces, wheelchairs, and so on needed by their children. Edward (Eddie) Jacobi of Niagara Falls, Ontario, has been chosen the Society's 1983 Timmy, representing Ontario's 6,700 physically disabled children. Timmy is eleven years old and attends Valley Way School in Niagara Falls. He is in grade five and enjoys reading, creative writing, spelling and environmental studies.

The Rotary Clubs of Minden - Haliburton - Fenelon Falls are planning to hold a joint meeting at Fenelon Falls on Thursday, April 21.

Two local students recently took examinations with the Royal Conservatory of Music. They took their piano examination at the Peterborough Centre. Shelley Barnes of Carnarvon received first class honors on her grade three exam and Heidi Tashlin received honours in her grade four exam. Both are students of Marina Maughan.

Harold Parker from Ontario Hydro was a recent speaker at the Haliburton Rotary Club. He spoke on energy efficiency in home insulation. As we all know energy is expensive and there were a lot of tips in his talk and slide presentation. The hydro have a number of people that will do in-home inspections.

We are glad to report that Stanley Holland, who has been badly injured in a motor vehicle accident last May and who has been hospitalized since that time is now starting to show a great deal of improvement. We are sure that Stanley would like to hear from all his friends so if you would like to drop him a letter or card his address is Mr Stanley Holland, Queen Elizabeth Hospital, Special K Unit, Room 535, 130 Dunn Avenue, Toronto, Ontario, M6K 2R7.

In my column last week I was pointing out that application forms for the Canada Home Renovation Plan can be picked up at CMHC whose address is 251 Charlotte Street, Peterborough, Ontario, K9J 2V2. Since that time my attention has been drawn to the fact that the guides and application forms for this plan can also be obtained from the Information Centre at Haliburton.

The Haliburton Peewees, who were playing with their backs to the wall after dropping the first two games of a best three out of five playoff series to Marmora, had to win the game in Marmora last Wednesday -- and win they did. This means that the fourth game will be played at the Haliburton arena this coming Saturday night, March 26 at 7:30 pm. Let's not forget that the Haliburton Peewees are the only team still left in the OMHA playoffs in Haliburton county. They are deserving of your support and it would be great to see the arena packed to capacity for this all important game.

A big crowd cheering the local boys on would go a long way in helping them to tie up the series and force a fifth and deciding game.

Some of the side roads and highways in the county have started to heave and potholes abound wherever you look. Some motorists tell me that some roads are worse than others with the worst yet to come!

Closing creates great concern and much anxiety

I recently gave you some background on the issue of the government's plan to close down six centres for the developmentally handicapped in this province. This week, I would like to give you some further information on this government plan which has generated such concern and anxiety.

I feel that economic considerations are being placed ahead of human concerns in the Ontario government's decision to close six centres for the developmentally handicapped.

Several of my colleagues have spent considerable time in recent weeks touring the centres and conferring with residents, parents and staff. To date, there is not one single shred of evidence that the residents stand to benefit from the closings which were announced last October by the minister of community and social services.

In the name of justice and humanity, the government should immediately suspend its plans and launch a thorough process of analysis and consultation to determine what is best for the almost 1,000 residents affected by the proposed move. It should reconsider the decision to abandon the 1981 plan to increase spending on community-based services before even contemplating closure of the six regional centres.

First-hand studies have demonstrated all too clearly that the three groups directly affected by the Minister's announced closures - residents, parents and staff - are firmly convinced that the facilities serve an invaluable purpose in assisting residents in the transition from larger institutions to community-based group homes. For many people, they constitute a bridge from institutionalization to the community life we all desire for those capable of achieving it. Remove the bridge and - inevitably - a great void in the rehabilitation process is created.

Many people in our two counties have written to me wondering if they must stand by and watch government callously disregard the plight of disadvantaged members of our society.

Parents groups, staff and community leaders are to be applauded for the efforts which they have made to influence the government, to prevail upon those in authority to reject the Minister's plan which has an immense potential for human misery - even tragedy.

I believe we must:

- initiate assessment of needs of mentally retarded now in the community which are not being met by existing programs
- assess the effect of closures on people already in the community
- increase the amount of new funds in financing community-based services
- reduce population of larger institutions while maintaining six smaller facilities as alternatives to closure
- give priority to community involvement and education
- assess needs of chronic care for the mentally retarded and commit appropriate funds to provide the services needed.

Report from Parliament

Bill Scott, M.P.

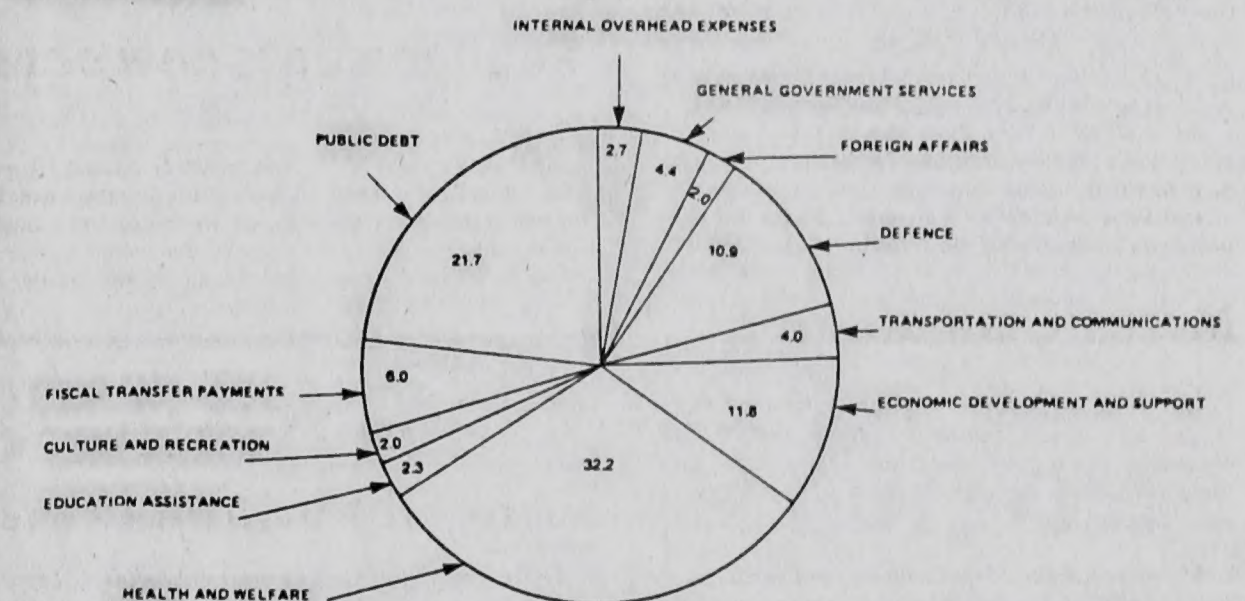

Scott objects to deficit financing of feds

I have, on several occasions in these columns, stated my objections to the current government policy of deficit financing. I have explained that a private sector company could not even get credit if it continued to incur debts at the rate our federal government does. If it did, it would be forced into bankruptcy.

A document that the government produced, in explanation of its Main Estimates for 1983-84 on February 22, contained the following table which explains how they intend to spend our tax dollar.

Your Federal Tax Dollar
	Per Tax Dollar	Net Income	$30,000	$40,000
Federal Taxes Payable	100.0c	$20,000	$6,000	$8,000
General Government Services	4.4	$2,023	$617	$823
Foreign Affairs	2.0	89	267	354
Defence	10.9	40	1,170	1,557
Transportation and Communications	4.0	221	663	880
Economic Department	11.8	81	2,430	3,227
Health and Welfare	32.2	239	7,170	9,547
Education Assistance	2.3	651	1,953	2,587
Culture and Recreation	2.0	47	1,410	1,870
Fiscal Transfer Payments	6.0	40	1,200	1,587
Public Debt	21.7	121	3,630	4,840
Internal Overhead	2.7	439	1,317	1,757

This table is based on the assumption of $7,000 in total deductions, in each case made up of a spouse, two children, employment expense deduction and CPP, UIC and other deductions.

Polio patients are unseen, unheard minority

Whatever happened to the Polio patient?
Even though polio has virtually disappeared in Ontario, there are still thousands of people in this province who have to deal with the after-effects of the debilitating disease.

Until recently, men and women who contracted polio in their youth may not have had problems since the acute stage of the disease. Now, as they grow older, they are experiencing fatigue, respiratory problems and muscle weakness - and once again require specialized assessment and treatment.

But they are finding few services available to meet their needs and medical professionals with little knowledge of the long-range effects of polio.

A group of disabled people, associated with the Ontario March of Dimes since its early years of specialized polio research and treatment, are planning a Workshop on Post-Polio Issues on Friday, April 22, 1983. The one-day workshop, to be held at St John's Convalescent Hospital, 285 Cummer Avenue in Willowdale, will provide a forum seeking solutions to these concerns.

"There are over 5,000 people in Ontario who have polio," said Audrey King, an organizer of the workshop who contracted polio 30 years ago. "Many people are becoming more disabled because of polio as they get older. Where do they go for assessment? There are very few polio specialists and knowledgeable technicians left in Ontario. The problems associated with polio did not end with the eradication of the disease following the introduction of the Salk vaccine in the 1950s."

According to King, adequate respiratory equipment is no longer generally available, parts are becoming increasingly difficult to obtain and home support maintenance services are sporadic and only available in some areas.

It is hoped that a Workshop on Post-Polio Issues will provide evidence reflecting the need for increased awareness and specialized services, such as the establishment of an assessment centre for post-polio patients in a major Toronto hospital.

Medical and paramedical professionals and delegates with disabilities resulting from polio will examine such issues as where to go for emotional support, health maintenance and fitness, institutional living and alternatives, present technology and insurance/employment concerns.

If you would like to express your concerns about polio-related topics or find out more about the Workshop on Post-Polio Issues, contact Lyla Swanton, Ontario March of Dimes, 90 Thorncliffe Park Drive, Toronto, Ontario, M4H 1M5 or Audrey King, Ontario Crippled Children's Centre, 350 Rumsey Road, Toronto, Ontario, M4G 1R8.

Glen Dart tournament is a big hit

The spirit of the Glen Dart Memorial hockey tournament is not entirely that of winning -- it's of sportsmanship and enjoying the game.

Eight minor hockey teams did just that Saturday at the Dysart Community Centre. As is the case every year, everyone took home a trophy... everyone was a winner.

The Novice game pitted Minden and Haliburton. Haliburton's team was made up of two local teams -- the Blues and the Whites. Minden's skaters prevailed, winning 4-2.

Kevin Buchanan got the hat trick for Minden, while Derek Greer added a single. Assists went to Oliver Greer (two), Kevin Buchanan, and Corbie Kent. Stephen Beaver was sharp in goal, and Jarrett Campbell tough on defence. Also enjoying good games were Aaron Hie, Jeremy Phillips, Chris Todd, Chad Connelly, Oliver Greer, Derek Greer, T J Lee and Cameron Berry.

Greg Stamp notched a pair for Haliburton. Assists went to Chris Greenfield, Brett Jackson, and Colin Sisson.

Jeff Black looked sharp in goal. Also playing well for the Haliburton Novice team were Jamie Stouffer, Greg Brohman, Jason Parish, Greg Sutherland, Peter Buckley, Jason Casey, Derek Wilson, Chad Bain, Todd Hargreaves, Jordan Howard, Mike Rosenberg, Matthew Williams and Brett Jackson.

The local Tyke team skated to an exciting finish in a game against Bancroft, losing 2-0. The last goal was scored with just six seconds to go.

Scoring for Bancroft were Courtney Rutledge (from Dwayne Switzer) and Elton Robinson (from Jason Grills). Colin Wadsworth earned the shutout. David Wadsworth, Brian Ducie, Dawson Cooney and Steven Lance also turned in fine performances for the winners.

The local team had nothing to be ashamed of in the tight game. Kevin Morrisette, Jeremy Nimigon, Mark Morrisette, Mark Stamp, Ryan Smith, Curtis Bain, Jonathan Bishop, Peter Brohman, Randy Smith, Kenny Teasdale and Jamie Cowan all took home trophies.

Haliburton's Peewees took on Wilberforce in what proved to be a shootout. The local team won 10-1.

The scoring for Haliburton went this way: Allan Rydeman from Paul Robinson, Wallace Wood unassisted, Kelly Youngdale from Steven Prime and Mike McKay, Steve Prime from David Hodgins, Allan Rydeman from Steve Prime, Mark Robinson from Paul Robinson, Steve Prime from David Hodgins and Jason Rowden, Mike McKay unassisted, Mark Robinson from Danny Connaughtan and Allan Rydeman, and David Hodgins unassisted.

Callum Wood worked hard in the victory.

The lone Wilberforce tally came off the stick of Jeff Anderson from Scott Ellis. Goaltenders were Marty Andrews and Marcia Sweet. Also playing for Wilberforce were Murray Sweet, Jason Billings, Chris Harvey, Steven Coumbs, Scott Ellis, David Gottwald, Philip Tompkins, Mike Hughes, Tammy Hughes, and Cory Hunter.

In perhaps one of the most entertaining games of the tournament a very strong Minden peeewe club came back to win 3-1 over Haliburton II's. Scoring for Minden were Sheldon Perry (from Trini Elias), Scott Russell from Sheldon Stevenson, and Tom Heppleston from Scott Russell and Sheldon Stevenson.

Randy Bull had an excellent game in nets. Also playing for Minden were Callum Wood, Corey Ackley, Derek Allison, Aaron Davis, Dave Shaw, and Kent Taylor.

The lone Haliburton goal was scored by Jeff Emmerson (from Darren Byers). Sean Billings was excellent in goal, and Jeff Smith, Darren Warburton, Scott McKee, Roland Greber, Ben Packard, Charlie Franklin, Jeff Emmerson, Ray Gervais and Troy Austen played well for Haliburton.

The action was fast and furious last week as the HeadNuts took on their parents. Callum Wood (left) scrambles for a loose puck as parent Ken Rydeman (number 23) moves in. At the right is Jason Rowden (number 14). It was all for fun -- someone lost the scoresheets.

Peewees win big, prolong playoffs

The Haliburton OMHA Peewees travelled to Marmora last Wednesday night for the third and what everyone thought would be the final game of their best of five series and came away winners by a score of 6-3. After losing the first two games of the series by scores of 7-1 and 7-0 the locals were given little chance of extending the series.

However, the boys showed they can't be counted out yet by coming up with probably their best effort of the season. Coaches George Nicholls and Gary McKnight juggled the line up in an effort to get some scoring punch and the changes seemed to work just as planned. They put the three big scorers on the team, Erin Nicholls, Jaro Cooper and Jeff Warburton on one line and each of these boys came through with two goals. The other unit of Jeff Francis, Greg Scheffee and Philip Johnston (or Jason Smith) were put together on a checking line and did their job by holding Marmora off the scoresheet when they were on the ice.

That left three defencemen - Ron Perrin, Colin Hunter and Drew Mitchell and these boys really did a big job clearing the puck at every opportunity and not allowing the fast Marmora forwards to apply any pressure.

Netminder Gavin McKnight was one of the keys to victory turning back the hard shooting Marmora forwards continually. Haliburton scored the only goal of the first period, that by Erin Nicholls assisted by Jeff Warburton and Jaro Cooper. Early in the second period Haliburton took a two goal lead on a shot by Jeff Warburton assisted by Erin Nicholls. Marmora came back with a goal to make it 2-1 but the locals were not to be denied as they scored two more goals before the second period ended, one by Warburton from Jaro Cooper and Nicholls and the second one by Nicholls from Cooper and Warburton.

Haliburton made the score 5-1 early in the third on a goal by Cooper assisted by Nicholls and Perrin but Marmora then scored two quick goals to make the score 5-3 and it looked as if the local boys were tiring. However, they checked well for the remainder of the game to hold Marmora off the score sheet and with just over a minute left Jaro Cooper scored the final goal of the game from Drew Mitchell and Nicholls to make the final 6-3.

The fourth game of the series will be played at the Haliburton arena on Saturday evening, March 26 at 7:30 p.m. The Peewees are playing very exciting hockey so try to get out and support the team in their bid for an Ontario championship.

On Wednesday, March 16, as advertised the Challengers made up by the following hockey scholars: ("always wear a helmet") Dale Robinson; (love those skates) Shirley Rydeman; (he went that-a-way) John Miller; (got the puck here somewhere) Vince Connaughtan; (Shirley, come back with the puck) Ken Rydeman; (got ya Callum) Doug Wood; (Jason, please don't check me) Gary Rowden; (where's my chair) Walton Prime; (goalie got me again) Roy Scott, and in goal (stop the puck) Mark Robinson.

Needless to say with the Challengers being in great shape and showing their excellent workmanship in passing (the string helped too) and top toe skating, didn't trip over the blue line once, the HeadNuts were hard pressed.

However, with assistance from their bench by their excellent coach (don't let them hurt you), Brenda and scorekeepers (oops-my fingers slipped), Ann, the contest remained close.

It is however, still a great mystery as to where the scoresheet disappeared too, and we understand that the challengers are considering having a detective to locate this "misplaced" document in order to prove their superiority.

This game was in preparation for the HeadNuts' last game of the season played on Saturday, March 19 in the Glen Dart tournament. They hosted Wilberforce, who having supplemented their team with several Atoms were no match for the HeadNuts who came out skating hard.

HeadNuts' goals were scored by Allan Rydeman from Paul Robinson; Wallace Wood, unassisted; Kelly Youngdale from Steven Prime and Mike McKay; Steven Prime from David Hodgins; Alan Rydeman

from Kelly Youngdale; Mark Robinson from Paul Robinson; Steven Prime from David Hodgins and Wallace Wood; Mike McKay from Wallace Wood; Mark Robinson from Danny Connaughtan and Allan Rydeman; and David Hodgins, unassisted. The final score was 10-1.

After the game the players and coach attended a spaghetti dinner at the coach's home.

This concludes the hockey season for the HeadNuts. My thanks to the players for their efforts and special thanks to Dale Robinson, Bob Pollard, Brenda Robinson and Anne Wood.

Finding our roots

by MARTIN BIEFER
Echo Editor

It's certainly not an easy job retracing the first steps taken by early settlers in the Haliburton village area.

However, artifacts depicting those early days -- an old evening gown from the turn of the century, the counter and cash register from an old general store, and so on -- line the walls of the Haliburton Highlands Pioneer Museum's upstairs display gallery and fill to overflowing the archives downstairs.

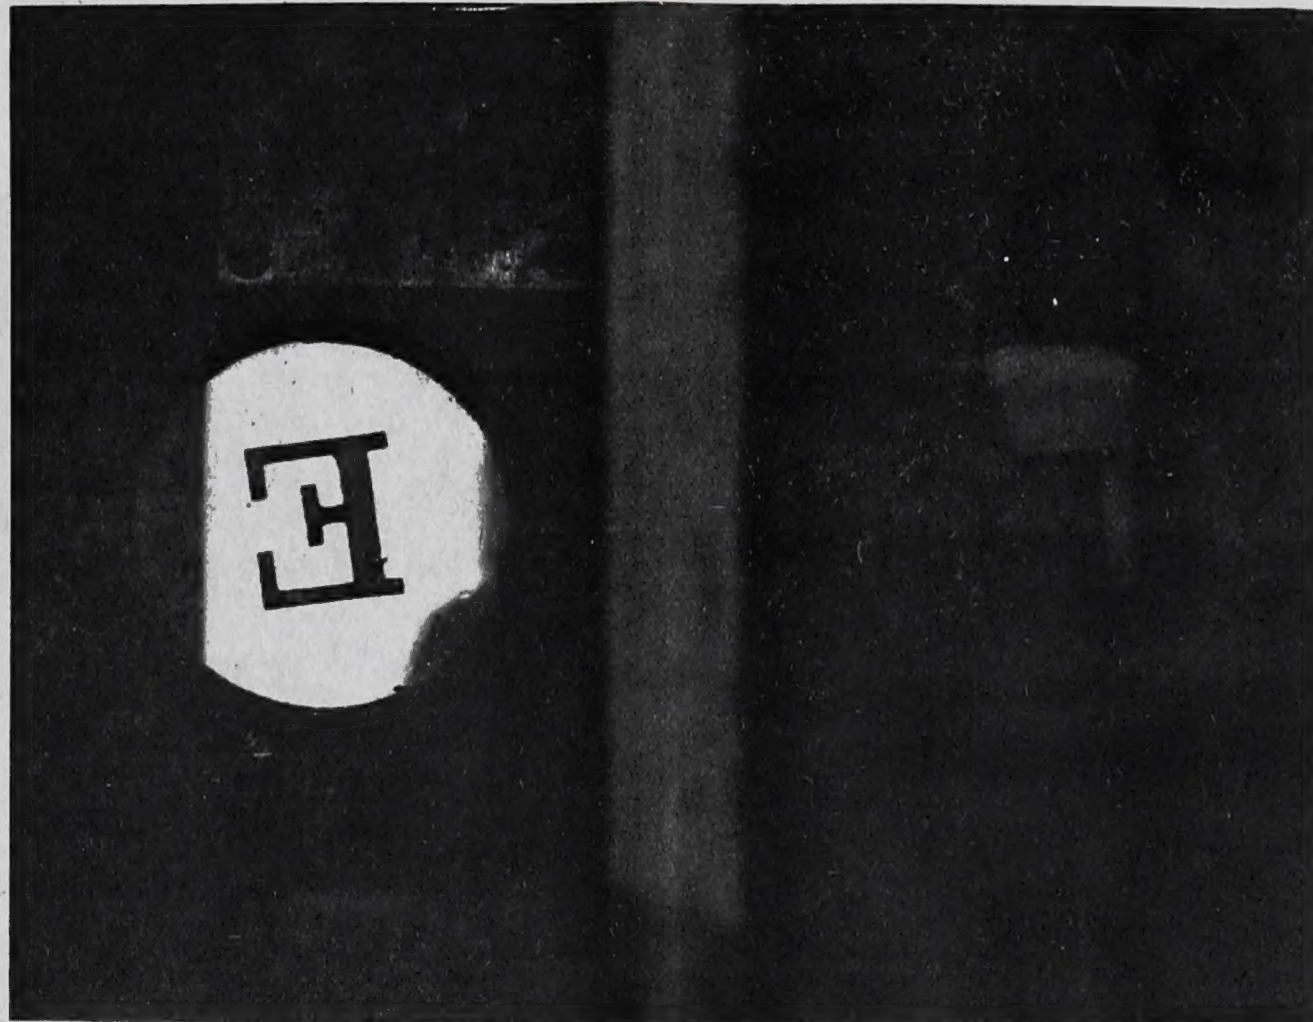

All this week museum staffers are asking people who have donated items to the cause over the years to drop by and help identify them. In that way, explained director Gaileen Johnson, displays will become that much more human -- and the artifacts will reflect the pioneers who once owned them.

old displays need a bit of a rest," she joked. For example, a section representing an old rural school room is new this year -- as are many other exhibits.

The gallery's archives are literally overrun with artifacts -- there are thousands of photographs, housewares, tools and farm implements -- and much more.

Johnson would like to see a photographic essay booklet issued by the museum. Pictures in particular help younger Haliburtonians "to know what it was like back then...and why we all settled here."

She would also like to see even more emphasis placed on using the museum for local education. Although field trips are common now, it's hard for one or two people to handle several classrooms of children, she

The Haliburton Highlands Pioneer Museum

"We'd like to get out and talk to them," explained Johnson. "We want to find out their story, and put it all together. That would make the museum that much more complete."

A new start

The museum, which opened in 1980, is located in an area known as Glebe Park, at the end of Bayshore Acres Drive in the village.

At that time a brand new building opened, and later, the old Reid House was moved to the parksite. Unlike the old museum downtown, which Johnson remained basically the same from year to year, the new museum's displays change annually... sometimes more.

"Sometimes some of the said.

"We certainly need more volunteers," she said. "Most of our volunteers have jobs of their own, and devote a lot of their time to helping out."

The museum's board of management is a lively one -- with many ideas, added Johnson.

Although the museum is located in Dysart et al, displays reflect all parts of the county, and "not just the town," she said. Funding for the museum comes from Dysart municipal council.

She said she would like to see even more participation from Wilberforce, Tory Hill and other small communities within the county.

Glebe Park

Can you guess what this is? If you can't, why not head down to the Haliburton Highlands Pioneer Museum

One problem the museum has had to deal with is its location. Few Haliburtonians know quite where Glebe Park is. And signs on highway 118 aren't big enough to attract passing tourists. Larger signs and the clearing of timber in front of the museum would make it more noticeable, said Johnson.

The park itself is slowly being developed by the municipality. It's located on gently-sloping forested land. There are plans for picnic facilities on the site, more trails, and a large new building to house some of the larger equipment displays -- one of which is an old press from the Echo.

As mentioned, the board of management committee is keen to see the park and museum develop "as an interesting and exciting place to go...not only for tourists, but for everyone."

The latter goal could be accomplished by holding such events as "strawberry socials," aimed primarily at senior citizens. Films and slides could be shown, giving the seniors something different each time they visited.

Another institution that doesn't exist here is a historical society, and such a group could work towards the establishment of more complete records, she noted.

and help them identify the items. The cataloging will continue for the rest of the week.

The Reid House

The Reid House has been restored to represent a typical Haliburton home at the turn of the century. The wood frame house stands a few metres away from the museum, and is complete period furniture -- much of it locally-made.

For more information about the museum, and any of its volunteer wings, contact Gaileen Johnson at 457-2760 or 754-3367. And be sure to stop by this week to help identify the artifacts that have been donated to the past.

Those Highland Hills

From Haliburton Village
Snuggled in those Highland Hills,
Those old lumber jacks have laboured
In the forest and the mills.

Now the cross cut saw has vanished
Like the lumber jacks of old,
But there is still some old timbers left
To tell the story but they're old.

There is Wesley Baker and Lawrence Morrison,
Bert Howe and Alf McColl
They have done everything from cutting logs
To building roads for the big log haul.

It was at the winter carnival
They had a lumberman's show,
The young men came with chain saws
And they could really make them go!

But when it came to the cross cut saw
The young men took a back seat,
To see the old timers pull that saw
To me it was a treat.

Buck Cowen sawed gallantly,
With his partner Grant Clement
But their time was beat, they met defeat
By Ken and Ross McKnight.

Arnold Roberts was a lumber jack
When he was young and strong,
He would always give a helping hand
And never do you any wrong.

Ernie Scott was a blacksmith,
He is ninety-one today.
But see him walking up main street
More like forty I would say.

It's nice to see those old timers
To me it's a real treat.
To meet men with history of the past
Right here on our main street.

Edward Miller

Editor's Note: This year Buck and Grant beat Ken and Ross by a half-second -- and they are all tied up, now.

The Cat and the Mouse

Whatever disposition Fate,
Impartial, mind you, sets to bait
The hidden tiger in us.
And by such act disjoins our nose,
Undoes our well considered pose,
And bares our animus.

Shows nothing of the will to spare,
From youthful locks to hoary hair,
Our character in dual.
And if there's something of the saint,
It also shows just what we aint,
Unwraps the knave or fool.

To all of us she seemed so sweet,
So ladylike, so trim, so neat,
A person of compassion.
But then, in all of us I guess,
There lies some hidden cussedness.
Alas she's no exception.

The fact it was a baby mouse
Did not in any way espouse
Maternal sympathy,
But galvanized her to a rush,
To grab a broom, a stick, a brush,
With cruel intent to slay.

Ah! It was a piteous sight,

On Sunday, Mrs. Della Curry got a real surprise you could see pleasure shining in her eyes. Her grandson and wife came all the way from Peterborough to help her spend the day. I think Winnie Johnson had her son too, and there are many if we only knew. Mr and Mrs Leslie McGuire spent the weekend with son Murray and wife in their home on Halls Lake shore.

They say they were treated royally, what could they ask for more? We were glad to attend the service in the chapel Sunday night. When we miss, things don't seem to function right.

Monday morning, down in the gym, there is always fun and fitness, in the evening there are movies to witness. Then in between, we have the busiest ladies you have seldom seen.

Rev Westhaver of Minden United Church, held a nice service in the chapel on Tuesday, our girls came to play and sing, before Agnes goes away. We are sorry to learn of Reg Welch having a slight stroke, we know just what it is like.

Cheer up Reg, do you remember when we used to drive our tin-lizzies down the pike? We had the therapist in on Tuesday afternoon. We knew she was coming some day real soon. She was a charming lady, full of life and wit whatever she asked me to do, I didn't mind a bit. She didn't seem persuasive or didn't put on airs but she soon had me climbing up the stairs.

I will take you down again, now don't be alarmed if you do fall, it will be right into my arms. She had just left when who should enter, but our own Arnie with a beautiful plant from Campbell's Garden Centre. It was sent from the staff of the Haliburton Echo and Minden Recorder. A pleasant surprise and a nice thing to do, we would like to say a big "thank you."

Ralph Daniel had a birthday a few days ago, he has reached the ripe old age of 8 and 0.

They say that in his younger days he was quite a guy, and with the ladies he was not a bit shy. We are happy to have Mrs Avery back to Hyland Crest after undergoing surgery, we hope it is for the best. We are sorry to hear that Leslie McGuire has taken a slight stroke, we hope it won't be long when he is around again.

Tuesday night the Watson-Smith trio came as they have done before and played toe-tapping music for an

Seniors are active -- with transportation

"Growing older is no more than a bad habit which a busy man has no time to form."

I am reminded of these words by noted French author Andre Maurois whenever I see our senior population in action. Rarely do you find a retiree at home in the day time. They're off to the curling rink, volunteering in town or playing a game of cards with friends.

By contrast, there are many shut-ins in a large, sparsely populated area such as Haliburton county. A program called "Wheels to Meals" was initiated three years ago, mostly for their benefit. Anyone over 55 years of age can take part, as well as handicapped people of any age. Free transportation is available, if needed. This program takes seniors to a nearby restaurant for a good meal at a very reasonable price, twice a month. After the meal, participants socialize or play cards.

Who knows how much loneliness has been alleviated and how many friendships have been formed through this program. Last year, close to 4,000 meals were served at the following establishments - Wagon Wheel, Locarno-on-the-Lake, Guilford Grill, Fogg's Restaurant and Gelert Gardens.

These community-minded businesses do not gain materially through "Wheels to Meals," but have the satisfaction of having improved the quality of life of our senior and handicapped citizens through their participation in the program.

For information about dates, price and how to register, call Marie Wallace at the Haliburton County Home Support Services at 457-2941.

Self-confidence

by WENDY BLAIR
Infant Development Consultant

As the little engine journeyed slowly but steadily up the steep mountain he repeated: "I think I can, I think I can, I think I have a plan, and I can do most anything, if I only think I can."

This familiar children's story titled "The Little Engine That Could," emphasizes the importance of self-confidence; that such a feeling in the face of challenge may provide one with the courage and determination necessary to succeed.

Self-confidence is a positive attitude toward one's own abilities and is a feeling which develops over time as a product of experience with others.

In the first few years of a child's life, parents play a major role in this process. If a child feels valued by his parents, he need not expend energy proving his worth to himself and others. He is self-confident and may devote his time toward more productive goals.

Furthermore, parents need to guide their child in accepting his weaknesses and recognizing his strengths. He needs to understand that even though there will always be those more intelligent, more attractive and more competent than himself, it does not detract from his own personal worth.

There has been so much happening this St Patrick's Day, I don't know where to start or just what to say. I won the prize for shooting the most blarney down at fun and fitness, I had to kiss the blarney stone for all to witness. We had a real good time and a lot of fun, it really didn't matter who lost or won. Then after lunch (about 1:00 pm) we were entertained by some young ladies and some young men. They call themselves the Friendly Service, some come from Canada and others from the States, the way they witness for the Lord is really great. They sang so delightful and were so sincere, we thank Rev Wicks for bringing them here.

The Haliburton Baptist ladies brought in the lunch, served it up so nicely, they were a jolly bunch. When the music started to make the day complete, several ladies got up on their feet.

Some faces are wrinkled, some hair may be gray, but the feet seemed as light as they were yesterday. The music was good. It was simply divine. I'm sure they all had a real jolly time. The Watsons and Smiths should have a big hand, they played the music it simply was grand.

Putting on the bingo

Thursday night was Dave Stevens and John Slovak. They did such a good job, we hope they will come back. We have a new waitress whose name is Fay McKay, she is so efficient in a nice and quiet way.

Sing song on Friday was short and sweet. Grace had to leave before it was complete. They did play and sing some lovely numbers for us, including the Hallelujah Chorus.

When Millie Wood leaves this earth for mansions up above, will she still be knitting mitts and socks and gloves?

Ours is an age of guided missiles, but misguided men.

Building self confidence

Parents may facilitate the development of self-confidence in their offspring by loving them at all times and with "no strings attached." A child needs to feel loved when he is helping his mother put dinner on the table AND when he is in the process of being disciplined for inappropriate behaviour.

Secondly, parents need to commend their child for putting forth his best effort regardless of the outcome. With his love and support, a child is able to try new things without having to fear failure.

Praising a child for his efforts has an added bonus! If, for instance, a child is positively reinforced for trying to tie his shoes, he will practice this skill with greater frequency in the future. The more a skill is exercised, the faster it will be mastered. And every success helps a child to meet his next problem with greater confidence.

If a child is having difficulty mastering a particular skill, his parents might offer little "tips" based on their own experience. If, for example, a child is learning to button his sweater and every time he buttons from top to bottom he misses one, his parents might suggest that he try to button from bottom to top and provide a demonstration.

It is possible to laugh with a child at his mistakes, but not at him. "A failure made funny, a loss made into a ure on occasion.

Finally, children often pursue competitive situations when they do not have the necessary skills to succeed. This may give rise to feelings of inadequacy and defeat. Because of this, parents need to make every effort to provide their children with chances to prove their competence. The opportunities given should be dependent upon the age, personality and developmental level of the child.

In summary, children need, to develop self-confidence in order to deal effectively with their world. And such a feeling can only be fostered in an atmosphere of love and support.

This weekly column on child development is provided by the Haliburton, Kawartha, Pine Ridge District Health Unit's Infant Stimulation Program. Your comments and questions regarding issues in child development are invited. Write to: Infant Stimulation, c/o Health Unit, P.O. Box 570, Haliburton, Ontario, K0M 1S0.

meetings he had attended at provincial level. He brought greetings from provincial command and expressed the hope that all branches in the zone will send good representations to the provincial convention in Niagara Falls in May. The district poppy chairman spoke on this most important topic informing us that overall our Zone was up considerably on our receipts for the 1981 campaign.

He informed that the branches are now being required to set up a 'Poppy Trust Fund Committee' headed by the poppy chairman, who will administer the monies of the poppy fund. The District Track and Field officer advised all branches to get involved in this activity in their community, along with youth education it keeps Legion in touch with the children of the community.

At this time the candidates who will be running for deputy district commander at the convention in April were introduced by the chairman. They are C Livingstone F2, R Reading, Zone Commander F3, D Worrall F4 and Zone Commander Una Golding F5. A motion was made and carried by Branch 67 Lindsay that a fitting presentation be made to the outgoing zone commander, D Worrall and PRO Bill Dermody. Time and place to be determined at a later date.

A number of items were discussed in general business, mostly items concerning the upcoming conventions. After this business was concluded the chairman accepted a motion to adjourn. Carried.

The next zone convention will be held at Branch 441 Kinmount, date to be announced later. The annual zone Drumhead service will be held at Branch 238 Fenelon Falls on Sunday, July 24, 1983.

Following the conclusion of the meeting a social hour followed and a delicious roast beef dinner was served by the Ladies Auxiliary of Branch 129 under the able capable leadership of President Jane Johnston.

Legion Week will be held the week of September 18 - 24, 1983. All branches are urged to set up their committees as soon as possible and take advantage of this opportunity.

The poor wee mite in timid flight,
And she in reckless fury.
It ended somehow in a blur
Of snarls and of flying fur,
As she belayed her quarry.

And so it's with a sense of ruth
I must face up, accept the truth,
That she is just no angel.
And she, I must acknowledge that,
Can be a nasty little cat,
Truth to tell.

Cause and Effect

by JIM WALLY

Life is often a thing of wonder. Even the smallest advance can explode in a great display of emotions. A simple, kind word and a pat on the head can turn a barking dog into a tailwagging friend. A smile and a friendly 'hello' is all that is needed to start a friendship that will last a lifetime.

Share a dream or an idea and it will draw that friend even closer.

Just wear a smile, it makes others smile. Just to smile makes people feel good. So wear a smile, it may be catching.

This year's most valuable player in the Industrial league playoffs was Tom Curry -- who has played on the winning team in all three championship games in the league so far. Presenting Tom (right) with the award is league treasurer Drew Carey (left).

Hockey news from Minden

by SHIRLEY WALKER
Kevin Buchanan led the way with four goals as the Minden Novice club beat Haliburton 4-2 in Glen Dart tournament action Saturday at the Dysart community centre. He scored two in the first, one in the second, and one in the third.

Oliver Greer got two assists for Minden, while Derek Greer and Corby Kent had one each. The win gave Minden the Glen Dart trophy, and each player received an individual trophy.

Atoms
Last week's Atom game with Haliburton was a playoff game, and not an exhibition game as stated here.

Last Friday night (March 18) in Haliburton, Minden beat the home town 4-1. It was the second game of a best three-of-five series.

Kent Taylor scored from Robbie Ackerblade in the first. Then Ackerblade scored from David Lee. Lee and Ackerblade helped out on Stephen Schrader's goal, making it 3-0 in the third. John Vuksic scored from Brian Waller and Hans Fluegel for Haliburton, but Ackerblade's second (from Joey Boyle and Lorne Greer) put the game well out of reach. Randy Bull recorded the win in goal, and the whole Minden team played well.

In the third game of the series, played in Minden Saturday, March 19, Haliburton held on to win a close one 3-2. John Vuksic had a pair for Haliburton in the first (Shawn Perrin and Hans Fluegel getting assists). In the second, Shawn Perrin scored what proved to be the winner from Russell Morrison. A pair of goals by Joey Boyle spurred a strong Minden rally in the third -- but they just couldn't get the equalizer. Robbie Ackerblade had two assists, and

A hobby that totally pays for itself in pride

It seems, these days, that more and more people are trying to get a little more mileage out of their possessions. They're hanging on to cars a little longer.

One of the most popular methods to come along of late has been the restoration of furniture...a skill that combines craftsmanship with practicality. Here in Haliburton village, Sir Sandford Fleming College has offered a course in restoration.

Instructor Al Mahaffy says students choose a piece of furniture they want to restore (usually a chair) and begin the nine-week course with the aim of re-finishing and re-upholstering it.

"It's a rather hard course to give," he notes, "because everybody has their own individual piece of furniture -- different from what the next person's doing." "You can't," he says, "just say 'this is how it's done'...they can only learn on the individual piece that they're doing."

Once a week the workshop of Mahaffy's re-finishing business is alive with people. Air-powered staple guns hang from the ceiling, and students quietly knead, hammer, and pull their creations into shape under the watchful eyes of Mahaffy and assistant Steve Barker.

The course starts from the beginning, and works out. Most pieces of furniture, notes Mahaffy, have some show wood...wood that must be washed down, sanded, stained or laquered. Material for re-upholstering is also made available to students at a discount. Mahaffy helps with some of the more difficult "jobs within jobs."

"There's no way they're going to learn it all in a 27-hour course," he pointed out. But after it's all over, they won't be afraid "to pull a chair apart" and re-do it.

Maureen Warburton (left) and Endell Ulp are hard at work on their chairs. Warburton is working on a set of dining room chairs -- she's doing one with the course, and others at home -- while Ulp is rebuilding a living-room chair. Both are students of Sir Sandford Fleming College's furniture re-finishing course, taught by Al Mahaffy of Haliburton.

The good old days

Most of the pieces students are now working on were older items of furniture -- no surprise to Mahaffy. "Today so much furniture is made with fireboards and plywood and inferior wood. Even a few years ago no one would consider building furniture...without hardwood frames and coil springs."

An item of quality, reasons Mahaffy, is worth hanging on to.

"There's three different things here...the students are learning something creative, they're getting out for a night and doing something different, and it's one of the few courses available that more than pays for itself."

"After 30 years, I'm still learning," he said with a smile. "There's so many trades within trades that you need to complete a job."

The men and women (the numbers are equal) taking part come from a variety of ages. No furniture goes out that isn't complete.

"The chair doesn't go out the door unless they're proud of what they've accomplished," he said.

Weed control guide useful to farmers, gardeners

The "1983 Guide to Chemical Weed Control" is now available from county agricultural offices and through many farm suppliers. This is one of a series of annual publications, published by the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food and provided free of charge.

This booklet, commonly called "Publication no. 75", contains a wealth of information on the various herbicides which are available this year, along with recommendations on the proper use of these herbicides on field crops, horticultural crops, along roadsides and in non-crop areas.

Farmers are reminded that herbicides are only available now in metric measures. As a result, the recommendations in this booklet are in metric. There are conversion tables in this year's book, to assist those farmers who are still applying their herbicides on a per acre basis rather than on a per hectare basis.

The other publication of interest to most farmers in Victoria and Haliburton counties is the "1983 Field Crop Recommendations" -- this publication has not yet been received, but we hope will be available shortly.

Home garden guide
The 1983-84 Guide to "Insect and Disease Control in the Home Garden" is now available.

This booklet has excellent information in it.

It's so easy ...

Norland Natter

by KELLY GRAHAM
Good day eh! If the weather is still as nice as it is as I write this it certainly is a beautiful day.

Here's something of interest to moms of "ones, twos, and threes."

Mothers in the Norland / Coboconk area interested in organizing and participating in a once or twice a week (daytime) get together-type program for the benefit of young tots aged one to three and one half years (and their mothers) please contact Annette at 454-1506 in order to arrange a planning session.

My sympathies to Lorraine Wharton and her father. They are in serious condition in Ross Memorial Hospital following a motorcycle accident. They were riding in a field when they hit some mud. The cycle stopped and the two were thrown off. I hope Lorraine and her father get well soon.

The winner of Shirley Harrison's Wintario ticket last week was Rae Patullo. Good for Rae.

On April 28 Coboconk Public School is having a talent contest for the grade five to eight students. I will have further details later but it does sound like a good show.

I would like to wish an Irish couple a very happy anniversary on St Patrick's Day. Helen and Alex Graham of Norland are celebrating their 38th wedding anniversary on March 17. I wish them many more years of wedded bliss.

Kindergarten registration for those children born in 1978 will be held at Norland Public School on the morning of Wednesday, April 20, 1983. On that day they will require specific information as follows -- proof of age, a record of immunization (for Polio, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough, mumps, and red and German measles and tuberculosis test, OHIP number, social insurance number, name of your doctor, your lot and concession number, and the name and telephone number of someone they could contact in case of an emergency.

It seems as if our little town of Norland is growing larger and larger every day. Mr and Mrs Lorne and Rena Parno of Toronto have purchased Vernon LeCraw's old store. They are planning to renovate it into sports and gift stores. Sounds like an exciting addition to Norland's industrial scene.

Did you know that once again people have been hired for the township for an eight-week winter works program?

Last week I had the pleasure of attending the show, Cafe Theatre at Fenelon Falls High School. The three short skits were extremely funny and the acts were enhanced by a cafe-like atmosphere of tables and chairs and the service of coffee and dessert.

Two Norland participants, Tracey Cook and Linda Janke are to be congratulated.

Construction of a tourist information booth was completed late last week in Coboconk and it is being set up on the main street of the village northeast of the bridge.

For the past six weeks on Friday afternoons the students of Coboconk Public School have been working on crafts such as ceramics, cooking, sewing, woodwork, computer programming, and model ship building. A lot of parents came in each week to help out and a display of the crafts was given at the school last Thursday, March 17.

Last Saturday, March 19 Mrs Jean Garrows (a teacher at Coboconk Public School) left for a week-long trip to France. I'm sure at this minute she's having the time of her life.

The winner of the hockey pool for Saturday, March 12 was Leonard Greer. Congratulations Leonard! Mrs Fay Vernon and Mr

Brian Hough have both been recent winners of lotteries. Mr Hough was the lucky winner of a huge box of groceries and Mrs Vernon happily accepted a hundred dollars.

Tomorrow (March 18) is one day I do not dread going to school. In the morning the grade five to eight class will view the movies "On the Right Track" and "Poltergeist." In the afternoon our class will enjoy a dance. We are also going to be able to purchase hot dogs, juice, and popcorn for our lunches.

Last Monday (March 14) was the last week for badminton and archery at the community hall. The 45 kids that showed up were rewarded with free chips and pop.

Please don't forget that next Friday (March 25) is the dance honoring former reeve Jack Ridgway. I hope to see all the members of the community at 8:00 pm.

The euchre scores for Thursday, March 17 were as follows -- ladies high, Pat Shorter, Dorothy Brown and Inga Wessel (tie). Men's high, Ziggy Kaswinski, lone hands - Kim Watson and Suzy Lightfoot (tie).

Well, that's it for this week. If you have any interesting news give me a call at 454-3707.

Coboconk News

by SHEILA LAKE
Our sympathy to the family of the late Ruth Barkwell who passed away this past week. Mrs Barkwell had been living in Caressant Care Nursing Home in Lindsay at the time of her death.

She leaves many nieces, nephews and grandchildren in the area, as well as daughter Mrs Jim Frances, and son Kurbel at Norland -- others at a further distance.

Winners in the Tuesday night seniors' card games were as follows:

Euchre: ladies first, Barbara Kenneth, 67; second, Judy Heffer, 67; and consolation, Hilda Chynoweth.

Men's first, Tony Kenneth, 70, second, Laurie Barkwell, 67, and consolation, Doug Taylor, 41.

Bridge results: first, Dick Taylor, 3780; second, Vi Gagne, 3540, and consolation Mary Heffer, 1200.

Mrs A Marles, Mrs M Faulkner and I were visitors of Mrs Carolyn Strong, on the Buller Road one evening last week. With the school break this week, a number of parents and family have left for a Florida holiday.

Mr and Mrs Norman Kidy of the Bancroft area called on Mrs Cora Lake last week. The immediate family honored great-grandpa, Harvey Farrow on March 18 at a dinner party at the home of daughter Royetta's (Mr and Mrs Wiley Hannivan) on the occasion of his "well over" three score and ten birthday. Happy birthday Harv! Brother Ben Farrow is 79 on March 20 and our best wishes to Ben, also daughter Isobel Luff who has a birthday.

Marjorie Henderson has herself one of those big "dishes" to bring in more TV stations. Marj is not well and I'm sure will get her money's worth in the long run.

The old car finally went through the ice on the pond after midnight on Wednesday. Haven't heard yet who guessed the nearest time of the sinking but should hear soon.

The whole scheme was to raise money for the local girls softball team.

Mr Norm Maynard is home and recovering from his hospital stay. And latest word is that Jack Peel is recovering and doing well in Sunnybrook Hospital in Toronto.

Mrs Ellen Marles of Holt and son Russell of Sutton were visitors of relatives here on Thursday. Walter Marles of Lindsay also visited several relatives here on Friday.

Minden Novices, Peewees are winners

Haliburton now leads the series two games to one. The fourth game was scheduled for Haliburton at 7:00 pm Tuesday, and the fifth game, if necessary, will be played tonight (Wednesday) in Minden, also at 7:00 pm.

These two teams are so evenly-matched that most of their games together have not been decided until the final buzzer sounded. They keep you on the edge of your seat during the whole game.

In Glen Dart tournament play in Haliburton March 19

Minden pulled a 3-1 win over Haliburton. In the first Jeff Emmerson scored from Ben Packard and Darren Byers.

Trini Elias tied it for Minden from Sheldon Perry, and Scott Russell (from Sheldon Stevenson) put Minden ahead 2-1 after one. After a scoreless second Tom Heppleston, falling while he shot, beat Sean Billings with the insurance marker. Minden won the Glen Dart trophy. The two evenly-matched clubs met Tuesday night in Haliburton for an exhibition game.

Wilberforce News

The closing days of March bring an end to winter sports. The arena has been bursting at the seams with activities for many weeks. One more big event that you won't want to miss is a skate-a-thon being sponsored by the Monmouth Figure Skating Club. On Sunday, March 27 action begins at 6:30 pm. You can sponsor and cheer for your chosen contestant. A large crowd is expected. There will be cash prizes for the most laps. This has been a busy year for the club executive and things are going nicely under the newly elected president Sandy Smith with Kathy Agnew as vice-president and Jill Lee as secretary.

With spring in the air we can look forward to the maple syrup festival. This is coming up on April 2. Your library will be taking part as usual and would appreciate having all those little odds and ends that you will be discarding after your spring cleaning. So please drop off anything that you are happy to be rid of, that will be just what someone else is looking for, at the library Tuesday or Friday evenings or Thursday and Friday afternoons. This will give a boost to our sales. No clothes please.

On Friday, March 25 at 7 pm there will be a showing of films at the library for children. Also craft class with a focus on the making of Easter eggs and other such timely projects.

Wilberforce has lost another of its pioneers with the passing of Alberta Webber.

Known by all as Bert, she came with her family to this area as a small child. The Webbers settled on a farm located near the old railroad, about a mile and a half west of Wilberforce. They were known to be a very industrious family. Bert played her part and it was said that no job was too difficult for her to handle. Later the farm was sold and some members of the family moved to the village.

When Bert's mother died she and her brother George lived together for years with Bert carrying on after George died. Bert was well known for her sociable nature. She was friends with everyone and took pleasure in keeping in touch with her neighbors.

She never missed a Sunday attendance at St Margaret's church. For the past few years she has resided at the Hyland Crest Home.

Bert was in her 98th year. A service was held at the Funeral Parlor in Minden. Interment in the spring will be in South Wilberforce Cemetery.

The Legion Hall is a busy place. Every Monday night many come to take part in the Bingo games. The attendance has been steady through the winter months. Those who are enthusiastic about cribbage can play the game every Wednesday night. Last Wednesday there were six tables engaged for Cribbage. Ron Buxton was the lucky fellow who won the raffle of a bottle of maple syrup.

Members of the ladies auxiliary sponsor euchre games on the third Friday of the month. We understand that refreshments are provided at this event.

Beginning this Sunday, March 27, the Wilberforce Full Gospel Church will hold services at 7:00 pm in the evening rather than the previous afternoon times. This is at St Margaret's Anglican Church in the village.

Canadian Nature Tours prove northland

by RON REID
Fed. of Ont. Naturalists

People with an interest in nature often seem to be explorers too, always on the watch for new places or new experiences that will unlock the richness of the fascinating world we inhabit.

These new places and new experiences are usually more accessible and more rewarding with a group of like-minded companions, and with the gentle guidance of a knowledgeable leader.

That's the philosophy behind Canadian Nature Tours, a non-profit operation designed to help people become explorers of the natural world.

Most of the destinations of this group don't sound familiar to those who browse the travel pages. There's not much sun and sand, for example, in Pond Inlet, on the northern coast of Baffin Island. But there is an awesome Arctic landscape, populated by tens of thousands of seabirds, and the great sea mammals such as narwhal, seal, and walrus.

Canadian Nature Tours also probes the north on Iceland, the land of fire and ice, where active volcanoes and hot springs compete with glaciers in a rugged landscape. Or you can visit the calving grounds for most of the North Atlantic's icebergs at the Illulissat Glacier on Greenland, where a massive sheet of ice seven km wide grinds down into the sea at a pace of 30 metres each day.

Not all of the tours are quite so far-flung. CNT also offers a range of canoe trips in northeastern Ontario, with special emphasis on rivers rich in wildlife and history.

The pace is relaxed, the company light-hearted, and the experience unforgettable. CNT provides all the equipment you will need, and expert training to help get you started. If canoes are not your style, you might be more interested in a week in a rustic lodge in British Columbia, or a leisurely houseboat trip on the Trent Canal, or backpacking expeditions in Newfoundland, the Rockies, or the Yukon.

This year, make your vacation a real break, and become a nature explorer. Further details on a range of wilderness trips to suit every taste are available from Canadian Nature Tours, 355 Lesmill Road, Don Mills, Ontario, M3B 2W8.

Moose management program set

by S JONES

Environmental Biologist
Ontario is embarking upon a new moose management program. Starting in the fall of 1983 a selective harvest system will be in effect throughout Ontario moose range which is open to hunting. The selective system will attempt to shift the harvest pressure away from adult moose cows, to the adult bulls and calves. The desired harvest will consist of 50 per cent adult bulls, 20 per cent adult cows, and 30 per cent calves. Too many cows and not enough calves were taken in past moose hunts. This ratio can now be altered for a particular management unit. For example, an increase in the herd size can be accomplished by decreasing the proportion of cows in the harvest.

Anyone qualified to purchase a residents hunting licence may obtain a licence to hunt moose and may take a calf moose in any provincial wildlife management unit having an open moose season. Residents wishing to hunt bull, or cow moose, as well as calves, must apply in a computer draw for a validation tag for a bull, or a cow, but not both. A moose licence need not be purchased prior to applying for the draw. Validation tags are and application form for the computer draw has been mailed to all holders of a 1982 resident moose licence. If you did not purchase a moose licence last year, or did not receive an information package in the mail, and you wish to apply for the draw, you may obtain the information package nad ap-

The new selective harvest will result in the end of the shared harvest regulation - hunters will, once again, be permitted to hunt alone. However, party hunting will still not be permitted. When you shoot your moose you must immediately affix your tag to the downed animal, and then you are finished hunting. You cannot continue to hunt once you have used your tag.

Calf moose of the year tend to have much shorter muzzles than adults; they are smaller than adult moose; they usually have uniform brown hair on their faces; they have proportionally longer legs relative to body size than adults; and they are more slender in the hind-quarters compared with an older animal.

Remember, if you are in doubt, don't shoot.

Win, loss for the IIs

The Pee wee IIs, seeking new competition to upgrade their team skills, travelled to Minden March 17 to play the OMHA Pee wees coached by Jim Allison.

With a fine skating club from Minden headed by Russell, Perry and Taylor the Haliburton club found themselves down by two goals at the four minute mark of the first period.

The Haliburton coach started juggling lines to offset the fast Minden team. B J Packard was sent out to skate with Russell and the rest of the team was asked to do their thing. With strong defensive play by Jeff Smith, and goals by McKee, Byers, Warburton, Emmerson, Franklin and Packard the Haliburton team skated to a 6-5 victory over the Minden OMHA team.

The Minden OMHA team returned to Haliburton March 19 for the Glen Dart, seeking revenge. Minden, headed by Russell (two goals and one assist), were unstoppable as they defeated Haliburton 3-1.

Joe Roberts received the award for winning the scoring title in Industrial League play. After leading the way most of the year Roberts finished one point ahead of Roger Bain. Presenting the award is Drew Carey (at the left).
